CARNEGIE'S PEACE PLANS RAPPED CATHOLICS REJECT THE RESOLUTION ONE OF MOST ANIMATED SESSIONS IN HISTORY

Federation of Catholic Societies
Goes on Record.

SAY HE IS ENEMY OF CHURCH

Also That His Business Record Does
Not Show Peaceful Disposition—Columbus Convention May Reverse
Last Year's Action In Condemning
National Educational Association.
Favor Better Wages and Conditions
For Workingmen.

Columbus, O., Aug. 23.—In one of the most animated sessions in its history and contrary to its action of a year ago, the American Federation of Catholic Societies rejected resolutions to condemn the National Educational association as an organization "to set up in this country an educational trust as a menace to individual liberty and to the primary rights which every American citizen enjoys of choosing the kind of education which he may wish to give his child."

The resolutions not only condemn the N. E. A., but the Carnegie foundation. Efforts were made to strike out the condemnation of the association, but finally the resolutions were sent back to the committee and will be brought in today, presumably without reference to the N. E. A.

Another animated discussion came when resolutions approving of the worldwide peace movement were read. Some of the delegates declared the peace resolutions should be killed because the movement against war is fathered by Andrew Carnegie, who, the delegates said, as an enemy to the Catholic church, and in the conduct of his own business is not a sincere apostle of peace. The section relating to peace was stricken out.

The federation placed itself on record by adopting resolutions, the substance of which follows:

Oppose All Divorce Laws
Opposition to divorce, on whatever grounds, and to lead in a movement to repeal laws permitting absolute divorce.

Sympathize with every legitimate effort to obtain a living wage, reasonable hours, protection of life and limb, workingmen's just compensation, decent and healthful conditions in the home, shop, factory and mine. Deplore conditions that compel women and girls to be employed away from their homes and the needless work of men on Sundays.

Protest against propagandas which teach class hatred, advocate confiscation of private property, make marriage a mockery, deny parental rights and responsibility, and proclaim state control and "even ownership of children."

TEXAS BRIDAL COUPLE IS FOUND FROZEN IN PIKE'S PEAK DRIFT

Bodies of Married Couple Found In Deep Drift.

OVERCOME BY SEVERE STORM

Texans Set Out From Colorado Springs to Witness Sunrise From Top of Mountain, but Quickly Succumb to Fogs of Climate When Rain, Hail and Snow Overtake Them—Stop to Rest and Fall Into Endless Sleep.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 23.—While attempting to walk to the summit of Pike's Peak, W. F. Skinner and wife, prominent and wealthy residents of Dallas, Tex., were frozen to death. Their bodies being found by the merest accident.

Little is known of the Skinners. They came here in July to spend the heated term, but were evidently unacquainted with mountain weather. They started to walk up to witness the sunrise. The distance is nine miles, during which the ascent is over 7,000 feet, the altitude at the summit being 14,147 feet. When about half way up they were overtaken by a storm of rain, hail and snow, accompanied by high winds. They were insufficiently clothed and were benumbed by the cold and, exhausted by the climb, sat down to rest. Death probably resulted from heart failure, though their bodies were frozen stiff when found.

The discovery was made above timber line at an altitude of 5,000 feet, and within two miles of the summit by the cog road on whose track they had made the ascent. They were completely hidden by a snowdrift except parts of the woman's clothing which were fluttering in the wind. The discovery was made by a boy, who notified the road officials, who took Coroner Jackson up on a special train. The bodies were brought here and will be shipped to Dallas.

Track Records Smashed

Columbus Track Has Monopoly on Sensational Racing.

Columbus, O., Aug. 23.—Two more world's records were made at the International Breeders' meeting here in the champion pacing sweepstakes. Independence Boy was drawn from this race at the last moment, leaving Evelyn W. The Abbe and Walter W. to fight it out with Earl Jr., the gray whirlwind. The latter was made an overwhelming favorite.

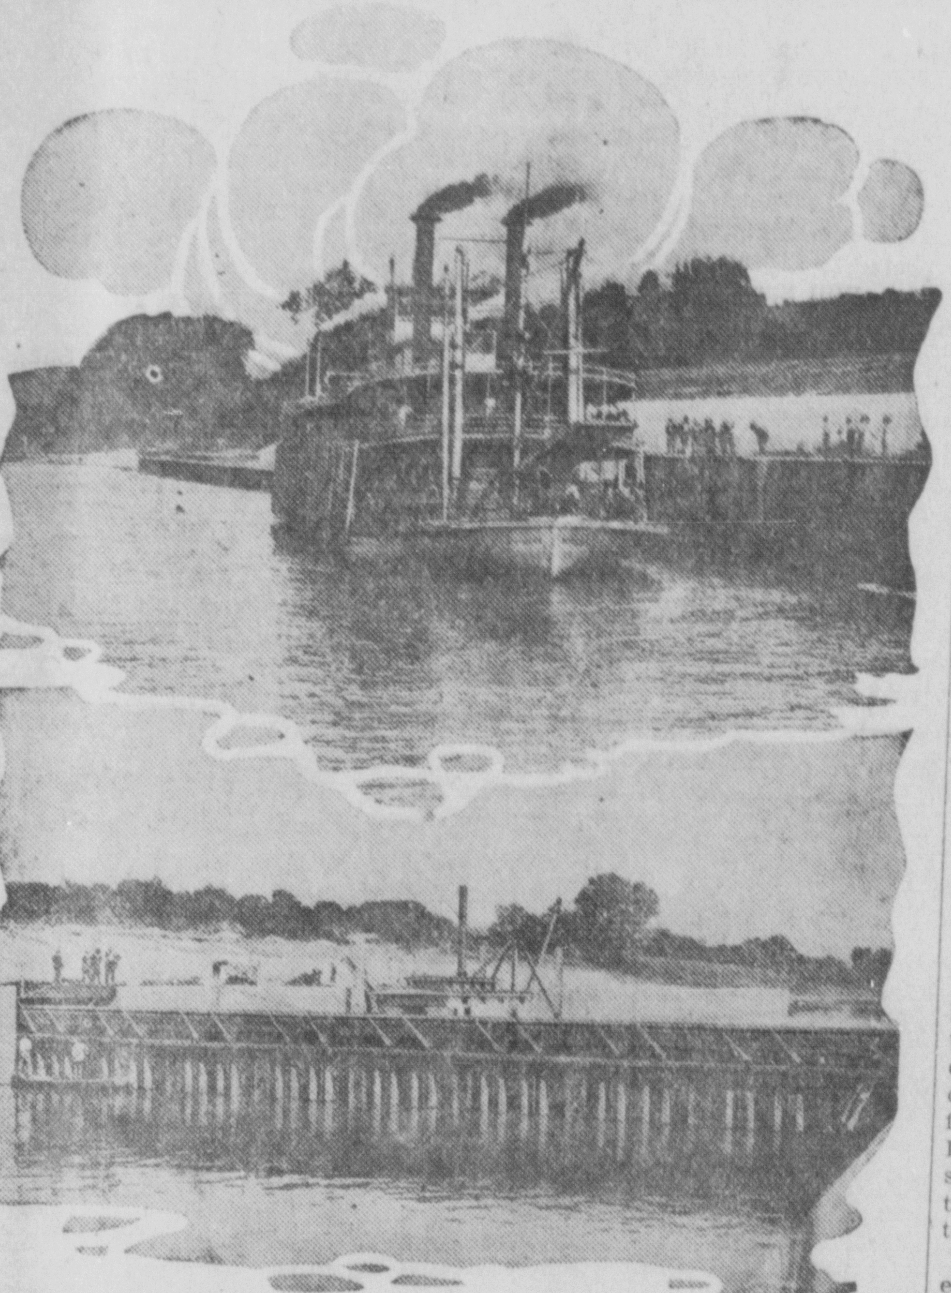

Evelyn W won the first heat in 2:03, Earl Jr. the second in 2:03, Evelyn W the third in 2:03 1/2, Evelyn W the fourth in 2:02 1/4. This heat was the fastest fourth heat ever paced in a race, the former record having been 2:02 3/4, made by Robert J in 1896. It was also announced that the race was the fastest four-heat ever paced the average lowering the former record by almost a second, being a very small fraction under 2:03.

Belvasia was made a strong favorite in the Buckeye stake for 2:12 trotters, with a $5,000 purse hung up. The favorite took the first heat handily but Stroller then threw a scare into her backers by winning the next two handily, the second heat being trotted in 2:05 1/4. Belvasia came back in the fourth and fifth heats, winning both and taking the big end of the purse. Stroller got second money. Lewis Forrest third and High Admiral fourth. The Huguenot and Dorothy Hansbora were both distanced.

New York, Aug. 23.—The body of John W. Gates, who died recently in Paris, arrived by the North German Lloyd liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Gross.

Alleged White Slaver Jailed.
Columbus, O., Aug. 23.—For alleged traffic in white slaves, Melvin Pollen of Marietta was lodged in the Franklin county jail in default of $1,000 bond, which was required for his appearance at the next term of the southern Ohio district court. Pollen is said to have procured Lizzie Allen of Marietta for a resort in Sistersville, W. Va., last May, and to have later taken her back to a resort in Marietta. A few days ago he married her in Marietta.

Navigation on the Ohio River
Aided by Opening of Huge Locks

Photos by American Press Association.

NAVIGATION on the Ohio river has been materially aided by the recent opening of the huge lock at Fernbank, near Cincinnati. This lock is 600 feet long and 110 feet wide. Several steamboats can be raised or lowered around the dam at the same time. One of the pictures shows a typical river steamboat in the lock, while the other shows a section of one of the gates of the lock. This gate, instead of swinging, as most lock gates do, slides back under the bank. It is moved by hydraulic pressure.

Seeking Control Of Convention

Democrats Organize Federation of Precinct Clubs.

WANT PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATE

New League Organized by Senators Owen and Chamberlain Will Invade Every Voting District in Nation and Urge Voters to Send Delegates to National Convention Who Will Stand by Interests of People—Will Play No Favorite Candidate.

Washington, Aug. 23.—At a meeting in the Democratic conference room in the United States senate the Democratic Federation of Precinct Clubs was organized, its object being the control of the next Democratic convention with the view to the nomination of a progressive candidate for the presidency and the adoption of a progressive platform.

Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma and Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon incited the movement. Both of them expressed confidence in the success of the plan. The conference was attended by many Democratic senators and representatives and will be followed by still another meeting tonight, when a charter for the organization will be drafted.

Policy Is Outlined.

"The purpose of the organization is to see that the people control the next Democratic campaign," said Senator Owen. "The organization will be committed to the candidacy of no man for the presidential nomination, but will fight to see that a progressive candidate, thoroughly responsive to the demands of the people, is chosen to lead the Democracy in the next national campaign on a platform acceptable to the progressive thought of the country. The organization will see to it that there is no trading or trafficking on the floor of the Democratic national convention."

Congress Was Not Extravagant

Washington, Aug. 23.—The session of congress just closed was one of the most economical in the history of the government, according to a statement made by Representative John J. Fitzgerald of New York, chairman of the house committee on appropriations. Mr. Fitzgerald declared that no session of congress has ever run for so long a period and appropriated so small a sum of money. He called attention to the fact that no new jobs have been created under Democratic auspices and 65 salaried positions have been abolished and more than $300,000 saved to the government annually.

Murray City, O., Aug. 18.—James Richardson, employed at the Job's mine, was fatally crushed by a heavy fall of slate.

EXPECT BENEFIT IN DIEGLE CONFESSION

Certain Legislators Said to Be on Nettles.

Columbus, O., Aug. 23.—It is rumored that several indicted legislators and some that have not been indicted are greatly worried over the announcement by Attorney General Hogan and Prosecuting Attorney Turner that Rodney J. Diegel, sergeant-at-arms of the senate, convicted of acting as bribe broker at the last session of the legislature, has agreed to write a full story of his connection with the alleged bribery transactions in order to escape a penitentiary sentence.

Having been found guilty seven weeks ago of having aided and abetted in securing a bribe for Senator L. R. Andrews of Ironton, the court has postponed sentencing him from time to time in order to give him every opportunity to turn state's evidence and thereby secure clemency for himself. Up to the present time Diegel has maintained a bravado spirit and has repeatedly declared that he had no confession of any kind to make.

However, when the time approached for Judge Kinkead to pass sentence on him, Diegel assumed an entirely different attitude and was extremely willing to confer with Attorney General Hogan and Prosecutor Turner.

It is said that Diegel told Hogan and Turner enough verbally to convince them that his written confession will prove of great value to the state in securing the conviction of members of the legislature and lobbyists who are suspected of being implicated in the bribery scandals besides those already under indictment.

Diegel's written confession must be turned in by next Monday.

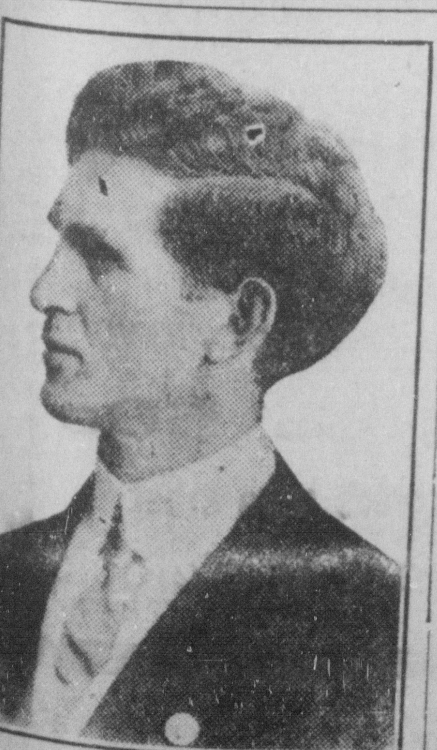

The Wets And Drys In Fight

Governor of Texas Calls Out Rangers to Guard Hotels.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 23.—Governor Colquitt has called the hotels and capitol here with rangers to prevent encounters between prohibitionists and the wets. J. F. Walters, chairman of the statewide prohibition organization, and T. B. Love, former state bank commissioner, and one of the dry leaders, had a fight in the lobby of a local hotel. The encounter grew out of the testimony of two men before the legislative election fraud investigation committee, in which they charged each other with making false statements.

Herrick Shooting Trophy Is Won by the Ohioans

JAMES T. CARROLL
President Ohio Branch of Catholic Societies.

Buckeye Team Breaks Records
on Three Ranges.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 23.—Breaking its own record of last year, exceeding by 20 points the celebrated international Palma trophy score of 1907, and breaking all known records for 15 shots on the 800, 900 and 1,000 yard ranges with any rifle, with any sights and any ammunition, the Ohio team finished the Herrick trophy match at 1,000 yards with a score of 1,732, or 102 points above the next competitor, the United States navy. Three men on the team were on the American team which shot for the Palma trophy at Ottawa, Can., in 1907. They were Winder, Seman and Benedict.

The Ohio team led at every stage of the match, but there were many shifts in the order of the other competitors. The phenomenal score of the Buckeyes was due to the use of special service barrels and telescopes, none of the other teams using them except the United States marine corps. The aggregate revolver match covering eight days of shooting on the revolver range was won by Dr. J. H. Snook of Columbus, O.

Beattie Trial Resumed Accused Feels Confident

Wreck Probs Begun

Columbus, O., Aug. 23.—The public service commission's probe into the West Side wreck of last week, in which two score were hurt, began this morning in the old railroad commission's hearing rooms in the state-house. Two interstate commerce commission experts will be here to co-operate.

Defense Said to Have Big Surprise Up Its Sleeve.

Chesterfield, C. H., Va., Aug. 23.—At noon today Judge Walter A. Watson called court, and the remainder of the day will be spent in picking the necessary four jurors to try Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., accused of killing his wife.

It is rumored that one of the surprises which the lawyers of the defense have been preparing lies in the uncovering of a witness who will swear that he saw Paul Beattie, the cousin of the accused and the one who has confessed to having purchased the shotgun with which the murder was committed, standing near the Belt Line railroad tracks on the night of the murder, not far from the spot where the detectives afterward discovered the discarded gun.

Speed Ring and Show Class Attractions Promise Well for the Entertainment of Horse Lovers.

BIG FAYETTE COUNTY FAIR OPENS

Entries in All Departments Fully Up to High Standard and Enormous Crowds Are Confidently Expected.

On Tuesday the Fayette County Fair grounds presented a scene of great activity all day and the departments were well under way for Wednesday, the opening day.

The indications are that many of the exhibits will rival any heretofore shown and that there will be keen rivalry in the Department of Fine Arts, Mrs. Earl Barnett, superintendent.

From Monday afternoon the entries in the line of Fine Arts have been pouring in and not only is it by far the largest display ever in the art hall, but there is closer competition for the awards.

The assortment of hand-painted China is immense and beautiful and in both oil and water colors a number of artists are represented.

There is also a beautiful showing students, displays all kinds of fruit and will take his display to the State fair.

Mr. J. N. Riley had a mammoth display of apples and Homer Hutson and Charles McLean exhibited splendid varieties of apples. Others are expected in during the day.

Mrs. Will Sprenger and Miss Alta Sprenger are the largest donors to the canned goods, jellies, cakes, bread, etc. This is an exceedingly pretty display.

The eleventh annual Fayette County Fair really opened Wednesday morning, although everything was in shape for visitors Tuesday afternoon.

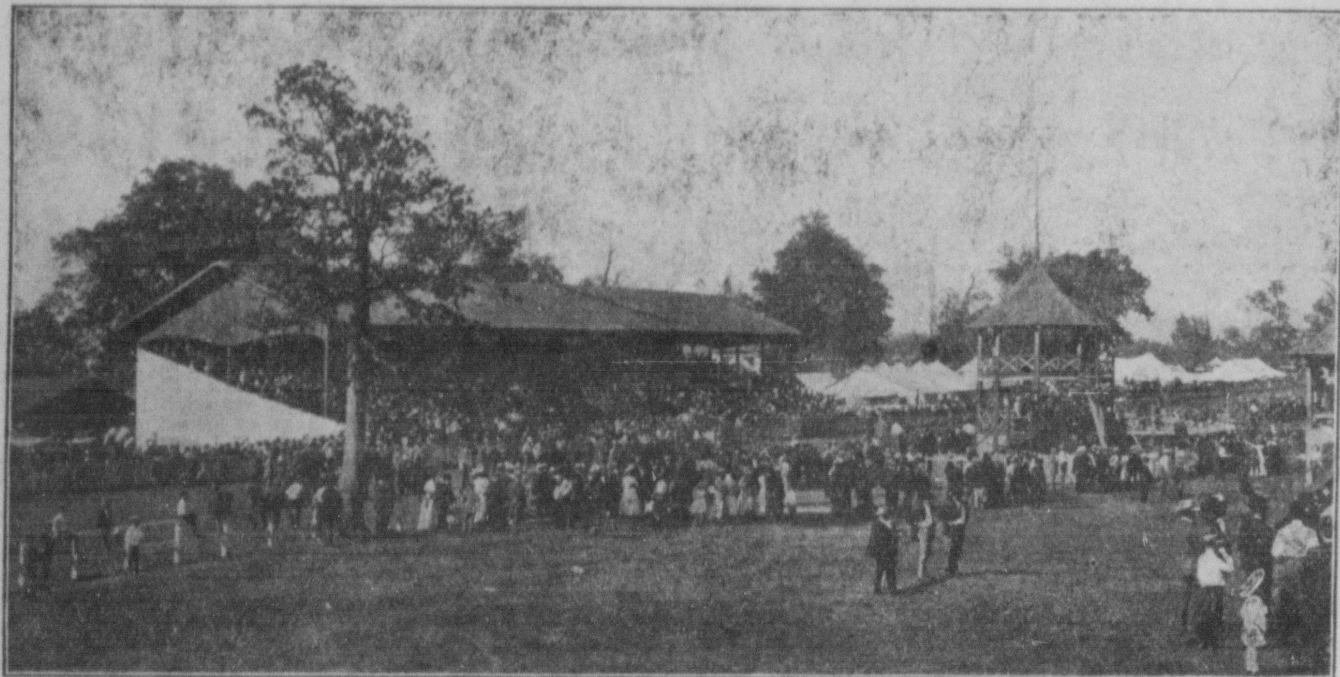

A large number spent the day viewing the fine exhibits, witnessing the show classes in the morning and the racing in the afternoon and finding plenty of entertainment on the Mart L. McCoy, 9 head, breeding and fat Aberdeen Angus in fine condition; Baker and Huffman have entered from Parkview Stock farm highly bred short horns.

If the sheep department, under Supt. John Salmon, has not as many entries as some years, the quality is certainly there. W. F. Palmer & Son of Pataskalia, O., show 14 head of Shropshires, a prize winning flock at last year's State Fair.

From Shady Nook Stock farm are also entered 12 head of Southdowns that look good for State Fair premiums. Deeds and Shank, of Pataskalia show 24 American and Delaine Merinos, leading flock winners. They cleaned up every thing at Carthage fair. J. C. Williamson & Son exhibit 12 Oxfords and J. C. Beckett, of Xenia, 12 Linc-

CROWDS AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

The grounds of the Fayette County Fair Company this year on the occasion of the Eleventh Annual Fair present a picture of prosperity and happiness unexcelled in any of the former exhibitions of the company.

of drawn-work, embroidery and all kinds of fancy work.

The number of old quilts entered, in this day of the old-fashioned quilt fad, is one of the drawing cards of the art hall.

A beautiful old outline quilt, made by Mrs. C. D. Snider's mother, is greatly admired. In the center of the hall several amateur floral displays are artistically arranged.

Par excellence the object of the greatest interest in the hall is the mounted golden eagle, the largest ever captured in Ohio, which is exhibited by Miss Pfeiffer.

Another department which is surpassing its former record is that of the farm products, under Mr. Dave Hagler.

Horticultural hall is worthy the name in its splendid display of agricultural products. Grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables and a credit to Fayette as the "garden spot of the earth." Every thing shown has come out of the fertile soil of old Fayette.

Sprenger Brothers have a Union township display that ought to be taken to the State fair. In the center is a very elaborate American shield, designed in corn and cereals, a laborious and effective piece of work. The entire background for the exhibit is wrought out in bar relief effect, with a harmonious color scheme in the corn and grains. Above a canopy of tasselled corn is very graceful. It is the most ambitious of the number of displays which Mr. Will Sprenger and his brother, Walter, have exhibited at the fairs. They also have a fine fruit exhibit, the pyramids of grapes displayed by Sprenger and Hearst especially tasteful. W. T. Elliott has a good display of apples and potatoes.

The Wayne township exhibit in charge of Mrs. Jess Blackmore, of Good Hope, is also the most elaborate that has been shown.

There is a special exhibit of grasses and grains in the sheaf and the arrangement throughout is wonderfully artistic, with arches of waving corn tassels and a showing of fruit that lends rich color.

The fruit exhibit is unquestionably the finest of many fairs, the sprayed fruit absolutely perfect.

Mr. I. C. Carman adds a new feature in his large display of melons of all kinds, one melon 2 feet long.

Earl Hearst, one of the O. S. U.

The afternoon's racing program included the 3 minute trot (changed from Thursday), the 20 pace and 25 pace and a running race of 3 mile heats.

There was a big bunch of horsemen out Wednesday morning for the first horse show classes. Jesse F. Cross is superintendent of classes. The show classes are splendidly filled.

H. Wilson & Sons, of the Wilson stock farm have 9 shires, the English breed of horses; E. Steen, Percheron and trotting bred; W. E. Probasco, of Jamestown, 6 head, Percheron and draft horses. Mr. Probasco had taken every premium at the Xenia fair just ended, but said the show classes at the Fayette County Fair are much larger.

Mart L. McCoy has a pair of Percheron, grey and black; Earl Baker, a Percheron; E. C. McCoy, brood mare and colt for general purpose class; Homer Silcott a Percheron.

Wednesday morning only Percherons and draft horses are shown.

Also in the horse show class are a bunch of blooded colts, products of the noted Springdale farm of the Alens, W. A. Rogers' standard bred 2 year old McKinney; J. C. McCoy, Simmons stallion and gelding; Homer Silcott a Burns filly; O. A. Jones, Thursday's classes.

Ed Severs says he has the best horse on the grounds in "Sample Package," by Groom. Not only the horse but the driver attracts great attention. You can always tell when "Sample Package" and his driver are on the track.

Agricultural Fair interest centers largely in the cattle, sheep, swine and poultry departments, many farmers coming especially to see what showing the county is making in stock.

The cattle department is under the management of Supt. Howard Hagler. The magnificent chest of solid silver and silver set donated by Mr. Humphrey Jones and Col. B. H. Millikan have stimulated competition in the cattle department tremendously for the past two years, and it is hard to beat the entries of the past two fairs.

M. R. Grinnell of the Spring Lea Stock farm, shows 11 Herefords; Ferguson & Hutchison, Aberdeen Angus breeders, Xenia, 10 head shown for the fourth week as prize winners.

Supt. L. E. Parrett is very proud of the swine entries, completely filled.

O. A. Klever, of Bloomingburg, exhibits 7 Duroc Jerseys, for the first time; Joe Alleman, 6 Berkshires; Homer Hutson, of Yatesville, 6 Duroc Jerseys; C. C. Creamer, Parretts, 8 head brought from the Spring Lea Farm of Yellow Springs; 25 head of Durocs and R. B. Martin, a herd of 15 Duroc Jerseys from West Virginia; Elon Thornton, of this city, shows 15 Mages; S. E. Jennings and Hearst, both from Williamsport, have Poland China herds; J. Mc. Carson & Son, E. Monroe, 2 Duroc Jerseys.

Supt. D. E. Mershon reports the poultry entries not yet full, but high in quality.

The grounds are covered with exhibitors' tents, superintendents of machinery, Jas. Ford and E. E. Cockrill. Those who are making exhibitors' displays are the Wonder Stove Co., Ford Hardware, Dice-Mark Hardware, Davis Motor Car Co., C. F. Bonham, W. W. Wilson, Ford Motor Car, M. Hamm Co., H. E. Young and F. S. Geigar, H. V. Hart, John Campbell, Dayton Scale Display Co., J. H. Anderson, Geo. Swope, D. W. Martin, Chas. Sexton, Henry Sparks, H. A. Link, Haynes Furniture Co., Allen Construction Co., Hobart M. Cable.

The Y. M. C. A. red cross tent, at which Secretary Zaner and two Boy Scouts are stationed in readiness for any emergencies or hospital needs, is an entirely new feature of the Fair and an excellent addition.

Supt. of Privileges W. A. Tharp, says the Midway attractions are the

Monroe George Wanted By Ross County Officers

Tuesday night the police arrested Monroe George, better known as "Mon" who has been a waiter at hotels in this city and at Maple Grove Hotel for several years.

George was placed under arrest upon advice received from Chillicothe where he is wanted on a charge filed by a colored girl in that place.

George is colored and when aroused, is regarded as a bad man. He is a brother to Wheeler George, the man who was seriously cut during an altercation with John Elder some two months ago. His crime is supposed to have taken place while he was employed at Maple Grove. He was placed in the county jail and will be held until the Chillicothe authorities arrive to take him over to face the charge against him. George protests his innocence.

Sandusky, O., Aug. 23.—In an effort to discover who telephoned Judge E. B. Kinkead at Columbus from Sandusky, warning the judge that Rodney J. Diegel was ready to jump his bond, Diegel telephoned to his wife at Sandusky and intimated strongly that he believed she sent the message. Minus Hands and Feet Man Is Hard Worker

A. J. Murphy, one of the most pleasant Irishmen who ever trod the streets of this city, and who visited this city three years ago during the fair, is back again. Murphy is seriously handicapped, but manages to make his way through life, regardless of the fact that he has neither hands or feet.

Murphy lost his hands and feet in the far north, becoming lost in a blizzard and the members were frozen so that amputation was necessary. This would have ended the career of most men, but not so with Murphy. He secured "socket" artificial legs and commenced work. Instead of hands he has two large hooks which he uses with remarkable dexterity, performing many remarkable feats that always attract those who behold them.

This remarkable man goes about his work with a cheerfulness that is amazing, and regardless of his infirmities, walks the streets with a merry twinkle in his eyes, a smile twitching around his mouth, and of times whistles as he goes.

He is making his way by selling a little booklet telling of his experience, and showing how he is handicapped. Murphy is pointed out all over the land as an object lesson of determination, and the man who is making the best of the worst in life.

Youth Was Willing Girl Lacked Courage

An amusing, yet pathetic incident occurred at the Probate Judge's office Tuesday afternoon when John Maxwell and Miss Sarah Howland secured a license and were wedded by Justice Craig.

The young couple were accompanied by another young man and woman, probably bent on securing the necessary papers, as the boy was willing to secure the license, but the girl protested against it, and they left the office still following the path of "single blessedness".

DEATHS

JUDGE DOAN DEAD.

Judge A. D. Doan, late colonel of the Seventy-ninth Regiment O. V. I., died at his home in Wilmington Tuesday. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday.

Veteran Jurist Dies.

Wilmington, O., Aug. 23.—A. W. Doan, for 15 years judge of the common pleas court of this district, died at the age of 87. He had been prosecuting attorney of this county, a member of the Ohio senate and delegate to the first constitutional convention.

Frank Dyer's Last Will

It may be of interest to Washington people to know that Mrs. Mary M. Dyer was appointed administratrix of the estate of the late Frank L. Dyer, with the will annexed, in Probate court Wednesday, and qualified by furnishing bond in the sum of $22,600. The will provides that the estate shall go to Mrs. Dyer, and upon her death to her daughter, Myrtle L. Dyer.

RETURN FROM EUROPE.

Misses Haidée and Grace Van Winkle and Miss Ida Hays have returned from their European trip enthusiastic in praises of the itinerary and their accommodations from the moment of starting until their landing in New York Thursday night.

The entire trip was ideal, with good fortune in constant attendance, and not even one rainy day to mar.

They visited Liverpool, Stratford on Avon, London, Paris, Cologne, Mayence, Heidelberg, Basle, Lucerne, Milan, Venice, Florence, Rome, Genoa and minor cities. Owing to Naples' quarantine, because of cholera, the party sailed from Naples on the Konig Albert, of the North German Lloyd line.

Colored Youth Is Jailed

Willie Jefferson, or "John" Jefferson, colored, has been reposing in the county jail for several days under a charge of petit larceny, brought by his grandmother with whom he has been living for some time.

The youngster, according to his grandmother, is a pretty bad boy, and she is afraid that he will do her bodily harm. She accuses him of stealing from her, and wants his case investigated and punishment meted out accordingly.

Justice Craig Helps Make Lovers Happy

Once more Justice T. N. Craig has been instrumental in making a pair of lovers happy by fastening the golden knot that binds them together in wedlock.

John Maxwell, 25, a farmer of Madison county, and Miss Sarah Howland, 18, were the pair who secured a license Tuesday afternoon, and wished the words spoken immediately that would make them one.

Deputy Probate Judge Ray Maddox called Justice Craig to his assistance, and a few moments later Mr. Maxwell led his blushing bride from the office, both apparently very happy.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

The great annual County Fair is on and on in earnest and in passing it is worthy of note that no amusement, so called, has endured for so long a time and been accorded such universal popularity as the old time, yet always new County Fair. The more prosperous the community the greater the interest in the County Fair.

For years many folks have been predicting that the star of popularity which has so long shown as the County Fair was on the wane and it would soon, like so many dear old forms and customs of the past, take its place in memory's garret of has-beens.

These gloomy predictions have all gone wide of the mark and today the County Fairs are bigger and better than ever, as they say in the circus posters.

The County Fair is distinctively the amusement, the school house, the pleasure and the meeting place of the people and as such it has endured and will continue to live and enjoy the popularity of the people.

Years have changed the features of the old County Fair, but that change has been one of marked benefit.

The pool boxes, the crooked horse races, the gambling devices and the noisy immoral features of the Midway have either wholly or partially disappeared, but with the passing of the frivolous and immoral features the wholesome upbuilding attractions have grown and prospered.

The number of chickens, cattle, sheep and swine exhibited has increased markedly, the grain and vegetables, the fancy work, the jellies, jams and cakes, and the needle work are each and every one a magnet which draws from far and wide the people who live the simple, honest, wholesome life, content to live and let live and glad to meet old friends and make new, to exchange views and experiences and by so doing profit all of them.

The good music brings the sparkle of youthful days to the eyes of the good women and gives elasticity to the step of the men folks. The clean horse racing furnish the required dash of sport to the good old brethren whose hearts are entitled to beat just a little faster on occasions throughout the long year.

The County Fair means much to the community and stripped of the objectionable features the time of its passing can not yet be prophesied.

This week the local fair will bring from every section of the county the prosperous tillers of the soil, who are now enjoying an era of prosperity unequalled in history.

At no time in history has a country produced farm products within one year with a value resulting in $8,920,000,000 which is the value of the agricultural products of this country for the year 1910.

When we realize this we must conclude that the farmer is entitled to a show and that he can surely give one worth while too.

The value of the crops produced in the year 1910 as compared with the year 1900, taking 100 per cent. as a basis, has increased 189.2.

No wonder the roosters crow louder, the hogs look fatter and the horses faster.

"Gold Darn" 'em they got a right to feel perky.
Let's go to the fair.

Teach Children Beauty of the Flowers

By William F. Curtis, Jr.

Children should never be allowed to pluck flowers, even in the field and hedges, merely to throw them aside; they should be early taught reverence for this floral beauty which is around them and never be permitted wantonly to break down boughs and branches, or fill their laps with buttercups and daisies only to leave them withered in the sun, discarded and forgotten.

The young should cherish their flowers as wisely as, and more tenderly than, they cherish their gold or silver pieces in their money boxes. The exquisite beauty of even the humblest blossom can only be appreciated by the eyes which gaze on it with attention and affection. If the wild thyme, or the shepherd's purse, or the cuckoo's eye, or any one of the tiny blossoms of the sward and hedgerow were but as rare as sapphires are, the whole world would quarrel for them; but nature has sown these little treasures broadcast with lavish hand, and scarcely any one is grateful.

The garden is a little pleasure of the soul, by whose wicket the world can be shut out from us. In the garden something of the golden age still lingers; in the warm alleys where the bees hum about the lilies and the stocks, and also where the lime leaves and the acacia flowers wave joyously as the west wind passes.

A true lover of a garden counts time and season by his flowers.

STARTING ON CREDIT

THERE WAS ONCE a modest young man of some ability who debated with himself a momentous question and at the end found himself unable to arrive at a decision. Thereupon he went to a certain old oracle of the village, who habitually wore one leg of his trousers thrust into the leg of one of his boots, and was popularly supposed to dribble wisdom, as well as tobacco juice, and laid the case before him.

"Buddy," said the oracle, "I'm glad you came to me, because owing to a natural fluency of speech and an apparent insensibility to the ordinary effects of rye whiskey, as well as a carelessness of personal appearance and scorn of cleanliness often observed in men of great intellect, I am able to set you right on almost any subject. I am an old man and I am cock-eyed. Therefore I say, without any hesitation or fear of a successful contradiction, that the very best thing a young man can do to get into debt. The logic of the thing is obvious. If you get in a hole you will wiggle like Sam Hill to get out of it, and it is the wiggler who succeeds life."

"I see," said the young man.

"Of course you see, because I have put it to you simply and clearly," said the oracle, "If I were redundant, verbose and addicted to superfluities of argument, I might point out that nineteen-twentieths of the business of this grand country of ours is done upon credit. Mountains are levelled, rivers turned aside, lightning chained, catarracts harnessed, cities built and empires established on credit. Credit is the soul and impetus of enterprise. Without credit, capital would not exist, for there would be no earthly use for it. You have the capital of brain and muscle, health and energy. All you need is the additional capital of a few dirty dollars. Go borrow them. Then you can hustle to pay 'em back."

"I'm much obliged," said the young man. "Would you—er?—Have—you-er? Do you think you could spare?"

"You go see the Major over to the bank," suggested the oracle. "He's got seeds of money to lend."

So the modest but able young man went over to the bank and saw the Major, who wore a white toothbrush mustache and glistening eyeglasses on an aquiline nose.

"Major," said the young man, "I'm thinking of borrowing some money."

"Son," returned the Major, "I implore you to think again. Take a good long look; take several of them—and please close the door as you go out, for it's a trifle draughty and as long as I've been in this bank, I can't get used to draughts."

"They're no worse than checks," retorted the young man, closing the door and returning to the mahogany altar-rail. "I have thought," he continued, "and I have consulted the oracle, though I couldn't work him. But he has convinced me that it is a good thing for a young man to get into debt."

"If the young man can find a good thing, perhaps," admitted the Major. "On the other hand I am inclined to think that you have been listening to some specious sophistry. I heard of a young man once who bought a horse that was perfectly sound in wind and limb, free of blemish, and with the disposition of an amiable kitten, and the morning after the sale the horse died. The young man had not paid cash for the animal. He had agreed to work for the former owner and let his wages apply on the purchase price."

"I think I heard of the case," said the young man. "It was very sad."

"Quite so," agreed the Major. "That poor fellow worked like a nigger, with the perspiration pouring down his brow, from early morn till dewy eve, from weary week to weary week, all

POETRY FOR TODAY

VACATION'S OVER.

The sun shines with more sober light,
The bells ring out from belfry towers,The streets fill up with faces bright
Like dusty roads with fairy flowers.The little shoes go hurrying past
That scarce have lost the scent of clover.The old schoolhouse awakes at last.
Vacation's over.Like some great hive of buzzing bees,
The schoolhouse starts its drowsy humming.And curls that danced 'neath summer trees
Now quietly droop o'er sums and summing.The sun paint tanned on each wee hand
Of mountain lass and seaside roverIs lost beneath an inky brand.
Vacation's over.When school-time comes the streets and parks—With no small tongues to be disturbing—Seem strangely lonesome with their marksOf pencils sharpened on the curbing.And oh, these little folks, as yet
About whose hearts no shadows hover,Are not the only ones regret
Vacation's over.

—S. Walter Norris in Youth's Companion.

Summer long, with no hope of reward for his honest toil; only the gaining consciousness that he was putting in his hardest licks for a mass of advanced decomposition.

"I knew another young man in the city I came from who bought a new Spring suit on the installment plan, and the first day he went out in it it rained on that suit and he had to give it to the janitor's little boy. But the installment house collector came around regularly every week just the same. Son, even if the day had been fine, those clothes would have lost their pristine splendor in the ordinary course of time and there would have been no pride of actual possession to compensate for the wear and tear. I think too much of you to let you take the risk of blither disappointment. Borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry, son."

"But," urged the young man, "credit is the soul and impetus of enterprise. If there were no borrowers, there would be no use for the capital accumulated in your bank. Credit levels mountains, chains the lightning, harnesses catarracts, builds cities and founds empires."

"Which do you want to do?" asked the Major.

"I want to buy an interest in a Washington hand press and a few fonts of type," replied the young man.

"Better tackle a catarract," advised the Major. "Bring around a likely catarract that isn't all in your eye and we'll talk business. I suppose you haven't any security or a good indorsement, either, eh? Well, there you are, you see. Sorry. And close the door after you, son, will you?"

The moral of which is so clear that it isn't worth pointing out.

A TRIFLE ABSENT-MINDED.

No Wonder That It Has Never Been Settled Who Struck Him.

William Patterson, the well-known Stratford (Vt.) nurseryman and friend of the late Senator Justin Morrill, was called by some "Absent-Minded Bill Patterson." Once while at his sugar camp, about a mile from his house, he wished to boil an egg for his dinner in the sap he was boiling down. Taking out his watch he dropped that into the sap. Instead of the egg, and stood for fully three minutes looking at the egg, which he held in his hand, supposing all the time he was timing the egg.

At another time he went to visit a friend on a rainy day and had to take an umbrella with him. There was a hoe standing beside the door of the house he entered, and he stood his umbrella beside it. When he left he picked up the hoe instead of the umbrella and walked down the road almost a quarter of a mile before he discovered the difference.—Boston Herald.

"Always show prospective tenants the telephone booth first," directed the landlord. "All right," said the janitor. But why?" "Then they'll think the coons ain't so small"—Louisville Courier-Journal

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERED IN THESE COLUMNS, OR BY MAIL IF SENT TO THE EDITOR OF THIS JOURNAL.

Q.—What is meant by the "Second Death" mentioned in the book of Revelation?

Answer.—The first death, the death which came upon the human family through the disobedience of Father Adam, extended to every member of the human race. But according to God's providence, foreknown and fully declared, Christ died for the sins of the whole world; and in due time every member of Adam's race is to be recovered from that sin and from its death penalty, which for six thousand years has been upon the race. In other words, as Adam brought mankind under the first death penalty, so Christ will release all mankind from the death penalty and give every member of the race a full and fair opportunity to attain perfection and eternal life. Whoever refuses that favor and opportunity—whoever sins wilfully and deliberately against that light which will come under the sentence of death again; and this time it will not be Adamic death, but Second Death. And the difference between the two, deaths is that the latter will know no revocation—there will be no redemption from it and no resurrection.

Land Rush Is On.
Minot, N. D., Aug. 16.—It was estimated here that over 5,750 persons had registered on the first day for part of 160,000 acres of the Fort Berthold Indian reservation, thrown open to homesteaders by the government at midnight Sunday. At Ryder, E. D. Paul, a barber of that place, was the first man to register, the first woman being Miss Agnes Cochran.

LOSS OF TIME.
MEANS LOSS OF PAY.
Kidney trouble and the ills it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. Balent, 1214 Little Penna. St., Streator, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work, but he says: "I took Foley Kidney Pills for only a short time and got entirely well and was soon able to go back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ills. Promoters Are In Prison

Wireless Officials Safely Landed at Federal Prison.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 23.—Handcuffed to three deputy United States marshals, three of the four convicted United Wireless officials arrived here this afternoon to serve sentences in the big federal prison.

Colonel C. C. Wilson, the "genius" of the wireless concern, walked between Marshal William Henkel and his former counsel, Francis Xavier Butler, who will serve two years in the federal prison to the colonel's three. The colonel wore his wide black hat and a gray suit. Butler, the able, brilliant-minded counsel of the company, who is only 32, appeared very much unconcerned over his fate. Behind Wilson and Butler, with his left hand supporting his head, walked William W. Tompkins, one of the concern's sales agents. Tompkins' right hand was clasped in irons to that of Marshal Mike McAneny. Tompkins' physical condition is poor.

Scotch Wit.
In Aberdeen can be found a court official who is as good a type of the canny Scot as one would meet anywhere. On a recent occasion an important witness failed to appear, and the judge was furious.
"Why isn't he here?" demanded his honor. "It's his duty to be here. Where is he?"
The official, with true Scotch canny, replied: "Weel, I'll no say for that; but he's dead."—The By-stander.

Showing His Diplomacy.
Never say again that a newspaper writer is not a master of diplomacy. One of the fraternity was to write up the history of an old lady of ninety-eight. He was told she had never so much as learned her letters. "Did he blurt it out in print? Not a bit of it. He merely stated in his finely written article that 'she can read the finest print as well as she ever could.'"

The Short Word For Wall Street

Head of Harriman Lines Sees No Excuse For Depression.

New York, Aug. 23.—According to Judge Robert S. Lovett, head of the Harriman lines, the principal obstacle in the way to a big business revival all over the country is the attitude of some of the big speculators in Wall street, who at present are busy circulating all sorts of disagreeable rumors for the purpose of depressing stocks to serve their own selfish ends. That this is no doubt Judge Lovett's opinion was learned when a reporter had a few moments' interview with him in an elevator on his way to lunch from the Union Pacific offices to the Lawyers' club in the same building.

Cold Water Method.—Put in glass jars well washed gooseberries, or cut up rhubarb; fill the glass jars as full of water as they can hold, fastening on the lids under water. Gooseberries, rhubarb, huckleberries, can be canned under water, not taking the jars out until rubber and cap are in place and fastened down tightly. They will be in perfect state until time gooseberries will come a—in other words they will keep a year.

Gooseberry Cream

One quart of gooseberries, one ounce of butter, one pound of white sugar, four eggs. Cover the gooseberries with cold water. Simmer over the fire until soft, strain through a sieve, and heat the pulp. When hot stir in the sugar and butter. Beat the eggs in light and beat them into the fruit pulp after it is cold. G. A. R. Veterans In Parade

President Taft Attends G. A. R. Encampment at Rochester.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 23.—President Taft this morning reviewed the biggest and probably the last parade of civil war veterans at a national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Ten thousand men were in the line of march.

The president arrived in the city at 9 o'clock and was greeted with the president's salute of 21 guns and escorted to his hotel by the Twenty-fifth infantry of Buffalo. As the president will leave for Washington this evening a special session of the encampment is being held this afternoon.

The G. A. R. reunion is marked by one of the hardest struggles in its history for commander in chief. Two candidates aspire Judge Harvey E. Trimble of Illinois and John McElroy of Washington, editor of the National Tribune. Friends of the latter claim a majority.

A Matter of Breed.

"Them fellers in the office of the Bee are what I call fresh," Deacon Ezra Bullock remarked to his wife at the supper table on his return from his monthly visit to the town of Balston. "How so, father?" inquired Mrs. Bullock.

"Well," Mr. Bullock said, "one of my errands was from Saba Mabel Briggs. She wanted I should find out why they hadn't punctuated her last poem. They sent a copy, an' she said it made her most fit the way they'd spiled ter beautiful ideas."

"Well, when I'd got loaded up to come home I drove round to the Bee office an' 'emposin' room an' beckoned a young feller in his shirt sleeves to come out."

"Now," I says, "you'll do her a favor if you'll tell me why you didn't punctuate Saba Mabel Briggs' last poem?"

"Cert'ly," s's he. "I'm not a pointer; I'm a setter."—Youth's Companion.

To Make Red Ink.

Red ink is easily made by amateurs who follow this recipe: Get a one ounce bottle and see that it is perfectly clean and dry. Place in it one teaspoonful of aqua ammonia, gum arabic the size of two peas and add six grains of carmine. Fill up the bottle with clear soft water, and after standing a little while it will be fit for use.

English Soldiers Kept Busy

English Strikers Have Acquired the Riot Habit.

London, Aug. 23.—There have been disturbances at many places on the line of the Northeastern. Men at work were attacked at Darlington. Bishop Auckland and West Hartlepool. Fifteen hundred more troops have been sent to Darlington.

The rioting has been renewed in south Wales. Many shops in Ebbw Vale and Bryan Mawr, including jewelers', have been wrecked and looted. The police made several charges upon the mobs but were unable to control them. Soldiers were called upon and the rioting put down for a time, but it is feared that the repression is merely temporary.

Points For Dyspeptics.

Dyspeptics should remember that cocoa and chocolate are better for them than coffee or tea, that potatoes are more easily digested when baked than when cooked in other ways and that peas and beans should be well cooked in order to be easily assimilated.

What shall I do? Where shall I go? TO-NIGHT

Fair week brings a feeling of recreation and enjoyment.

Our spirits strive and struggle to break away from the daily "routine of life," and adrown the drudgery" in a sea of pleasure-ble experiences.

This perturbed condition of our minds is beautifully and peacefully calmed by an entertainment at the Opera House to-night, that will afford us rest, refined recreation and refreshment.

PRICE'S PREMIER BAND of Greenfield, will give a Concert To-night. It is not necessary to say a word about this entertainment. "Price's Band" "tells the story" to the people of Washington C. H., and assures them that many times their "money's worth" awaits them at the Opera House this evening.

There are two principal reasons for you attending this concert: The First is for your own pleasure and gratification. Nothing is better than the exhilarating influence of good music. The Second Reason is, that any pecuniary profit goes to the Odd Fellows, who are promoting this entertainment. What the Odd Fellows have done in Washington C. H. the past 57 years, and what they are doing now, should urge and prompt you to patronize this concert to-night.

We'll watch for YOU. Come; don't disappoint us.
Respectfully,
THE COMMITTEE

Another Couple Married in Newport

Charles C. Oswald and Clara B. Reynolds, both of this county, were married in Newport, Ky., Sunday night.

The number of Covington and Newport marriages has increased since it has become necessary for the bride-to-be to accompany the man she is to marry, but whether this has anything to do with marriages across the border, is hard to say.

The fact that Royal Blue Flyer No. 103 on the B. & O. was more than one hour late Tuesday afternoon, probably saved it from going through a small bridge one and one-half miles north of this city, where a fire had burned a number of ties and weakened the structure.

The crew of a freight train discovered the fire and extinguished it and then spent nearly one hour in blocking up the track to allow the passenger trains 103 and 108 to pass over in safety, which they did by slowing down and creeping over the treacherous piece of track where the flames had eaten their way among the ties.

The section crew was called from this city and made the necessary repairs, insuring safety of the trains until the entire culvert or bridge could be repaired by the bridge gang. Cinders from a freight are supposed to have started the fire.

dence of the fact that the contest is just getting a real start and no one is yet too late to get into the merry war. The remarkable manner in which the contestants keep bunched together would give the impression that all are working at about the same rate and striving for first place in their respective districts.

Many of the contestants have taken occasion either personally or by mail to compliment the management of the Register and Herald for the excellent judgment displayed in the choice of prizes, and the management feels well pleased with the evident satisfaction that has been afforded by the array of awards that is offered.

The pianos are now on exhibition at the County Fair and should be seen by everybody whether interested in the contest or not. The First Grand prize, the player piano, is said by competent critics to be the finest instrument ever displayed in this vicinity.

The exhibition of the pianos is in charge of Mr. J. W. Smalley from whom they were bought and who will be glad to show them to visitors to the fair.

Elder Flower Fritters
A delicacy little known except to German cooks is the fritter made from the blossoms of the elderberry bush, now in season. Make a batter of one cup of flour, one teaspoonful of sugar, a pinch of salt, and one cup of milk; beat well with a Dover beater. Each flower should have a stem an inch or two long; dip into the batter and fry in deep fat; when puffy and brown lay on a platter and sift with powdered sugar.

Value of Hot Salt Bag
Make a square bag of flannel, fill it with salt and sew the openings carefully together, then cover the bag with cotton or linen cloth. The salt will hold heat for a long time, and also has some medicinal value. It can be heated in the oven, on top of the stove or wherever most convenient. Many claim that a salt bag is better than a hot water bag, as one need not be afraid of it leaking or bursting.

Rag Carpets
Each season these quaint, old-fashioned floor coverings grow more popular. They are so attractive—come in such pleasant colorings and designs that it is small wonder women like them. And they are not expensive either, and not to be despised on account of their wearing qualities. For summer bedrooms these rag rugs and carpets are especially pleasing. With white furniture and floors they are very cool and inviting indeed.

"THE GIRL AND THE TRAMP."
A great many traveling theatrical companies have fallen into the habit of refusing to use their special scenery when playing small cities where the stage accommodations are limited. But when The Carlos Inskeep attractions, producers of the laughing comedy success, "The Girl and the Tramp" turned the show over to the company manager they gave him strict orders to use all the scenery wherever the company played. The directing manager is so exacting on this point that he has the local theater manager in each city report to the home office if instructions have been fulfilled. If this order has been violated in the smallest detail, the party responsible receives a reprimand in the way of a heavy fine that is not soon forgotten. So our local theater-goers may look forward to a full and complete scenic production when "The Girl and the Tramp" comes to the Empire Thursday, August 24th.

Tartar sauce is one of the hardest sauces to make, mainly because a recipe is so hard to get. This one was procured from an Italian chef. Leave three eggs in a bowl of water for one hour. Separate carefully and beat hard the yolks. Pour in a little ice-cold olive oil. Beat hard. When it gets too thick add a little vinegar. Beat to a cream. Add half an onion chopped fine and a sour pickle. Season. The important point in making salad dressing is to have all materials ice cold.

$600 Schaff Bro. Player Piano

First Grand Prize 2nd Grand Prize

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

This beautiful Player Piano will be given to the person having the largest number of votes in the Register-Herald's Great Voting Contest, and was bought of J. A. Smalley, who will shortly have the instrument on exhibition at his store-room on West Court St., next door to the T. C. DeWees photo gallery, also in Exhibition hall at the County Fair next week.

This player piano carries with it an unlimited warranty and is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind, making it possible for a child to operate it and play any style of music, from ragtime to the most classical.

The tone of this instrument, its volume of sound and artistic workmanship have earned for it the distinction of being one of the finest player pianos ever brought into Fayette county. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street and examine this prize.

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1868, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has marked the quality of their product ever since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the storeroom next to the DeWees photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered maple-lined mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.
